Without animal research, millions of dogs, cats, birds, and farm animals would be dead from more than 200 diseases.