

ANIMAL RESEARCH SAVES LIVES

The Cartilage in cows provide people with allergy medicines, vaccines, first aid creams, respiratory inhalers and other lab medicine

When biological products are extracted and made into vaccines or medications, they have to be tested extensively to make sure they will be effective.

The silk of spiders are used to fight infection and heal wounds.

Snake Venom has been use to make medicines like Batroxbin and cobratide.

Monkeys are used to make treatments for HIV/AIDS and malaria. Monkey are used to understand and treat Alzheimer's Disease.

The frog is used in studies to help with cancer heart disorder, allergies etc.

Anti-thymocyte globulin gets injected with other medicines to help the body not reject a kidney transplant.

Researchers have developed a drug that mimics some of sharks immune system to treat Idiopathic Pulmonary Fibrosis.

